AMFA FILES FOR SINGLE CARRIER STATUS FOR THE ALASKA–HAWAIIAN MERGER

Dear Sisters and Brothers:

The IAM has learned that the Airline Mechanics Fraternal Association (AMFA) filed for Single Carrier Status this week with the National Mediation Board (NMB) regarding the mechanic and related groups involved in the Alaska–Hawaiian merger.

The NMB must initiate an investigation to officially determine whether a single transportation system exists between Alaska Airlines and Hawaiian Airlines. There is no time limit for this investigation, and the NMB will inform both parties of the next steps.

The IAM is monitoring this situation, and as new information becomes available, we will update the membership immediately. As always, we remind you to rely only on trusted sources of information, such as the District 142 website (www.atd142.org), District 142 email bulletins, and our official social media pages.

Your support, commitment, and solidarity are needed now more than ever as we enter this crucial phase of the merger.

Sincerely and fraternally,

John M. Coveny, Jr.
